DEAR PASSENGER

It is true that summer is always an exciting time for the entire aviation industry, especially after such adverse times as the aftermath of the pandemic. But as winter approaches, and Christmas and the New Year, in particular, we feel a special magic in the air, of which we are privileged spectators.

The students are returning to the Azores after the ordeal of a first trimester away from home. We saw them leave with heavy suitcases and tight hearts, and now we see them return with homesickness and a head full of new ideas coming from other corners of the world. They enrich our flights with their lively energy. Seeing them on board makes us think that all our take-offs and landings have meaning in a ritual that is fulfilled year after year.

But not only students we see boarding our flights during the conventionally called low season. At this time of year, perhaps the quietest for travel, we continue to build bridges between the Azores and North America. On this continent, we have an Azorean community that does not neglect to keep its traditions and, at this time of the year, welcomes or visits family members on the other side of the Atlantic. To see them return to their homeland, accompanied by their children and grandchildren, aboard Azores Airlines and SATA Air Açores is to have the privilege of being part of this family and witness the passage of time and generations.

And if traveling to the Archipelago of the Azores is a viable option to escape the hustle and bustle of some more popular destinations, it is during the Winter's low season that the Archipelago can seduce all those who are looking for a corner of tranquility, which allows being away from the metropolis' turmoil. With those who are simply looking for a quiet refuge where nature is exceptionally beautiful and inviting in mind, we have put together several combinations, with flights departing from destinations such as Paris, New York or Boston, Toronto, Lisbon or Porto, Funchal, or Praia, that can be enriched with lengthier stays or short stopovers in the Azores. Among other helpful tips on our favorite subject subject – travel —, you will find some suggestions that, I hope, will arouse your curiosity.

We wish you a pleasant trip. It is always a pleasure to welcome you on board.

Azores Airlines made its first flight using sustainable fuel

October 24, 2022, will be written in Azores Airlines' history as the day it made the first flight using sustainable aviation fuel (SAF). The first Azores Airlines commercial flight fueled with SAF connected Lisbon - Ponta Delgada in an Airbus A320, styled Unique, with registration CS-TKK.

This milestone is all the more noteworthy when, a few days earlier, SATA Group airlines joined the Zero Emissions Aviation Alliance, a European Community initiative aimed precisely at achieving decarbonization of the sector by 2050.

SAF aviation fuel is developed from waste, used and recycled oils, and other sustainable raw materials and is an alternative to fossil fuel, reducing total CO emissions by around 80% compared to jet fuel.

The partners Petrogal and the lessor Carlyle Aviation were involved in the preparation and monitoring of this first sustainable commercial flight, ensuring the feasibility of this operation.

The SATA Group is committed to consolidating its sustainability strategy by achieving the objectives and goals defined for the industry.

SATA Group went to Portugal Air Summit

When we have passion for what we do and meet other people passionate about aviation, extraordinary things happen.

That's what happened at the 6th Edition of the Portugal Air Summit, which took place from October 12 to 15.

Three days in which specialists in the aviation business, aspirants to a career in aviation, and those with a burning passion for flying machines gathered in Ponte de Sor, in the stunning Alto Alentejo region, with their eyes set on the sky and their hearts beating on the ground, didn't miss a bit of the Air Show that was taking place in the skies above Ponte de Sor.

SATA Azores Airlines was there during the three days of the show. It welcomed at booth B06; was present at the panel discussion on the new generation of aviation professionals; participated in the revivalist Portugal Air Fashion show, where uniforms in shades of blue from the Azores sky and sea were paraded, and, to the delight of those most passionate about the world of aviation, thrilled the public present by landing, for the first time in the history of the Portugal Air Summit and Ponte de Sor, the Airbus A320 "Dream" on the Ponte de Sor Aerodrome's runway.

The European Best Destinations elected Madeira as the best European destination to celebrate New Year's Eve. The island beat London and Berlin and promises to do justice to the title in the next festive season. Come and understand why it is worth visiting this Atlantic paradise not only on New Year's Eve, but also during Christmas.

THE BIG NIGHT

Funchal's seafront and downtown, the sea, or on Porto Santo Island are the best spots to enter the New Year with your eyes on the skies. The reason: the fantastic pyrotechnic show, internationally recognized by the Guinness Book of Records in 2006 as "The World's Largest Fireworks Show". Scheduled to start at midnight, this is one of the island's most famous tourist attractions, lasting about eight minutes and including 59 firework displays located in Funchal's amphitheater, between Pier 8 and Almirante Reis Beach, at sea, and also in Porto Santo. You should add this experience to your wish list, joining thousands of national and foreign travelers who choose the island to enter the new year with lots of light and color.

TO ENJOY BEFORE OR AFTER THE PARTY

Between a visit to the Christmas market and the fireworks' amazement, it's worth visiting some of Madeira's other attractions. How about taking in the stunning views from the top of the Pico do Areeiro viewpoint and enjoying the natural wonders on a hike to Pico Ruivo? If you're a fan of nature, you'll love the Botanical Garden. Located in Funchal, it features beyond two thousand exotic plants from all over the world.

Colors and smells will not be missing in the Farmers' Market, not forgetting the most diverse flavors. Fruit, sweets, and even handicrafts await you on this visit, during which we suggest you pay special attention to the building where the market is: a beautiful example of traditional architecture with Art Deco and Modernism influences. Add a stop at the Church of Nossa Senhora do Monte to the itinerary. Opened in 1748, it doesn't stand out for its size but rather for its interior rich in golden details, which houses the remains of Charles I of Austria.

The festivities are an excellent excuse to (re)discover Funchal. Enter the New Year on the right foot in one of the world's best New Year's Eve parties!

New York City

Spending New Year's Eve in New York City is on countless travelers' bucket lists worldwide.

Whether you prefer a more exclusive and elegant night out with your nearest and dearest or to be one of a million jostling in a mob of New Yorkers, there are plenty of options guaranteed to provide an unforgettable start to the new year. Where better to have the best New Year's Eve than the Big Apple?

ATTEND AN NYC NEW YEAR'S EVE COCKTAIL PARTY

New York City drips with elegance and attending a cocktail party is a great way to get into the vibe as the countdown begins.

Take your pick from several ticketed NYE events or choose a more casual approach and walk into one of the city's many festive cocktail bars and rooftop restaurants.

NYC and cocktails go hand in hand, so keep in mind that there will be plenty of people with the same idea as you. Make a booking and be sure you head out early to get a good seat at the bar and take advantage of those happy hour specials.

WATCH THE NEW YEAR'S BALL DROP

The Times Square ball drop at the stroke of midnight should probably be #1 on this list, but we put it here because you'll need a cocktail (or two) first!

Every year a million people gather in Times Square and watch the famous ball drop when the clock strikes midnight on New Year's Eve. In fact, New York's New Year's Eve would be incomplete without this tradition!

O Fish 22 é um espaço informal, descontraído e aconchegante, onde os clientes podem desfrutar de uma vasta seleção de peixes do mar dos Açores.

A gerência aposta na gastronomia tradicional, regional, dando especial ênfase aos grelhados. Assim, é habitual o cliente poder escolher entre carnes e peixes grelhados, sendo muito procurado os filetes de peixe e a sopa de peixe.

A decoração reverte para um ambiente marinho, mas descontraído, familiar e muito acolhedor. Venha deliciar-se com a qualidade e sabor do nosso peixe que o Fish 22 lhe pode proporcionar.

If you want to spend some money, check out the Ball Drop pass, which gets you into multiple venues around Times Square.

The plan is for live music and entertainment starting from about 6 pm, but you'll need to get in line at about 3 pm to secure a good spot. People begin to gather in the early afternoon, so if you're not bothered about the crowds, join the masses to see the giant, sparkling ball drop 141 feet (43 meters) from the roof of One Times Square.

The best view to see the crystal ball drop is in the heart of Times Square, where Broadway and 7th Avenue meet, also known as the 'Bowtie'.

However, it can still be seen from quite far, and the entire scene is televised across the city too – so maybe just stay in one of the rooftop restaurants and watch the live stream, including the live performances outside, while you're keeping warm!

Keep in mind that New Year's Eve in New York is in the deepest darkest winter and the iconic ball drop is an outdoor spectacle, so dress warmly!

TAKE THE FAMILY TO PROSPECT PARK

Rug up warm and head to Brooklyn's Grand Army Plaza in Prospect Park, which hosts a festive New Year's Eve celebration for the whole family.

This free one-hour event starts at 11 pm with live music and hot chocolate, and at midnight a massive display of fireworks will light up the skies over the park. The best viewing spots are at Grand Army Plaza, the Park's West Drive, and along Prospect Park West between Grand Army Plaza and 9th Street.

SKATE INTO THE NEW YEAR!

The Rockefeller Center Ice Rink, under the famous Christmas tree, is a hot spot in the cold climate over winter. Even just wandering past to take a few photos is a must and the experience is an affordable way to enjoy the city.

But if the busyness of the Rockefeller Center intimidates you, you can visit one of the many other ice rinks that pop up across the city. In fact, skating at Central Park is just as iconic as the Rockefeller rink. For a more inclusive NYC tourism experience, you can book a Central Park ice skating and walking tour.

Or head to the pop-up Winter Village in Bryant Park and don your skates there – then shop in the surrounding market stalls and grab a bite to eat.

TAKE A CRUISE ON NEW YORK HARBOR

If you prefer to get away from the crowd or want the sophistication of a calmer evening for your New Year's celebrations, head over to the New York Harbor to enjoy a cruise under the dazzling night sky.

Any day in an NYC harbor cruise to see the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island is beautiful.

It is the ideal location to be, with champagne in hand, the sound of sultry jazz in the air, to watch the fireworks display and festivities from the water on December 31st.

New Year's Eve fireworks cruises with champagne tasting on board are one such cruise that promises an unforgettable night. Although slightly pricier, it pays in glamour and decadence. And imagine the selfies!

EXPERIENCE THE THRILL OF CONEY ISLAND

Looking more unique and exciting way to celebrate New Year's Eve? Coney Island in Brooklyn will give you a whirlwind adventure.

The famous amusement park's celebrations kick off at 6 pm and include all the perks expected from New Year's Eve: fireworks, live entertainment, and a happening social scene.

Located right by the beach, Coney Island is particularly exposed to the city's winter chill, so make sure you dress warmly. And perhaps bring an extra jacket when the heated excitement of the rides cools you down.

Paris knows how to celebrate. And if there's one day a year when you can be guaranteed to be in for a big party in the city, it's New Year's Eve. Every year, the city lights up, and crowds fill Paris's bars, clubs, and streets for a night of frivolity.

Be there at midnight in the world's most romantic and beautiful city to kick off the new year with a bang!

JOIN CELEBRATIONS IN THE MAIN SQUARES

If you want to spend your New Year's Eve surrounded by people from all over the world and locals alike, head to one of the main squares. An unforgettable firework show will entertain you. One of the hot spots for these happenings is definitely the Arc de Triomphe. An incredible display of colorful light projection will play from 11 p.m. until 1 a.m., and fireworks will be welcoming the new year at midnight.

If you're closer to the Eiffel Tower, don't miss the famous midnight light show! For an optimal view, head to Trocadéro and see it from there, but make sure to arrive early and secure your spot.

Finally, spend the night in Montmartre, the city's artsy center, if you prefer a quieter New Year's Eve but don't want to compromise on the breathtaking view!

CELEBRATE ON THE CHAMP DE MARS

Perhaps unsurprisingly, as it's the focal point of many visits to Paris, the Eiffel Tower is particularly popular on New Year's Eve. While some people will be celebrating in its restaurants, it's the long, thin, manicured park leading up to the iconic tower from the École Militaire that most revelers crowd to. This park, the Champ de Mars, acts as an unofficial gathering point on New Year's Eve for those who plan to spend the evening outside, making new friends and waiting to shout "Bonne année!" to the world.

ENJOY A TRADITIONAL NEW YEAR'S DINNER WITH A LIVE SHOW

Locals usually spend New Year's in Paris eating a special dinner to welcome the new year with abundance. One of the most popular cabaret shows in Paris is at La Belle Époque, which always offers a unique show with a high-quality New Year's dinner menu at the fixed price of €250.

Le Ciel de Paris is a great option if you're up for an elegant, upscale dinner with a view over the whole city from the 56th floor of the Montparnasse tower. Such a treat!

For a real movie-like experience, waste no time and book your table at Moulin Rouge! Historically known for its lavish shows, you'll be setting yourself up for a spectacular dinner.

Spending New Year's in Paris can get quite pricey, so if you're looking for a delicious French dinner that won't drain your wallet, go for La Petite Chaise. It's one of the historical restaurants that offers traditional cuisine at more affordable prices. With all the things to do on New Year's Eve in Paris, this is undoubtedly the most typical.

TAKE THE WHOLE FAMILY TO DISNEYLAND PARIS

Spending an enchanting New Year's Eve in Paris with the entire family is possible: just go to Disneyland Paris! The magic of Disney will entertain little ones and adults alike. You can have a traditional dinner in one of the many restaurants inside the resort, attend the incredible firework show held above Sleeping Beauty's castle and then treat yourself to a night at the Disney hotel!

DANCE YOUR FEET OFF IN A SHINY PARISIAN CLUB

Nothing screams New Year's Eve more than spending it dancing at a chic Parisian club. For vintage vibes, head to Le Bus Palladium in the ancient Paris quartier Saint Georges. You can taste typical dishes, listen to good live music, and hit the dance floor for a dance or two. Feeling a little crazy on New Year's Eve? Check out Crazy Horse, a well-known burlesque and cabaret show. If you're looking for a loud, entertaining show and plenty of good drinks, it won't disappoint. Les Planches is the perfect place to spend New Year's Eve in Paris with friends. It has different dining, drinking, and dancing areas and is not too overwhelming with lights and music. For a trendy option, go for Club Haussmann, considered the best in town by locals.

A far cry from the traditional Parisian clubbing scene, Wanderlust has been doing its thing since it opened in 2012, and it now attracts internationally renowned DJs to its open-air decks. The club is part of Les Docks, a converted industrial unit dedicated to fashion and design. A large terrace overlooks the river Seine, so you can celebrate the stroke of midnight by dancing under the stars, and the inside space features another club area and a restaurant.

The Rex Club, the biggest feature on the Grands Boulevards clubbing scene, is another popular choice for dancing the night away on New Year's Eve. The venue is attached to one of the most famous cinemas in Paris, the Grand Rex, whose neon sign can be seen from miles away. The downstairs dance floors pull in an international bunch looking to party hard to bass-heavy techno, house, and electronica music.

Keep in mind that the options are endless in Paris when it comes to clubs, so look around and don't hesitate to give them a call and ask about their special offers on New Year's.

TAKE A CRUISE ON THE SEINE WITH BATEAUX PARISIEN

Take to the Seine for a dinner cruise on a Bateaux Parisien for an alternative festive dining experience. As well as a delicious meal, a bottle of Pommery champagne, and musical entertainment, being on the river means that you can soak up the holiday's atmosphere right across the capital.

MUSEUMS OPEN ON NEW YEAR'S DAY IN PARIS

After all the partying and celebrating, you might want to enjoy the cultural side of Paris. After all, you are in Paris where you can explore dozens of museums beyond just the Louvre.

Thankfully, many museums will be open on New Year's Day, though they often close early on New Year's Eve if you wanted to see them before you start your night. Here are the other must-see museums we recommend (and will be open): Musée d'Orsay, The Centre Pompidou, Musée de l'Orangerie, and Montmartre Museum.

If you've already hit the main ones, pay a visit to Musée du quai Branly and Grévin Museum. The Musée Rodin is also definitely worth a visit, but you'll need to see it on New Year's Eve (early in the day!) or after New Year's Day.

Choose an experience that will inspire you to celebrate the fresh start that the new year provides and enjoy these beautiful cities as they pump with festivity.

Happy new year!

*“ATLANTIS CONCERT
FOR EARTH 2022”*

MUSICIAN NUNO BETTENCOURT, BORN IN THE AZORES, ORGANIZED THE “ATLANTIS CONCERT FOR EARTH 2022” FESTIVAL, WHICH HAD THE VOLCANO OF SETE CIDADES AS ITS STAGE. WE TALKED TO THE ARTIST WHO ASSURED US THAT THIS IS AN EVENT TO CONTINUE.

It was in July, on the 22nd and 23rd, that the first edition of the music festival “Atlantis Concert for Earth 2022” was held, an initiative by the musician Nuno Bettencourt, a composer and producer, known for his work with the group Extreme and also artists such as Rihanna, Robert Palmer, Perry Farrell, and Janet Jackson. The main heads on the poster were names like Black Eyed Peas, Pitbull, Stone Temple Pilots, Bush, Mod Sun, and Girlfriends, also the presence at a virtual concert by Sting and Queen + Adam Lambert. With unique scenery, something which would only be possible at the crater of the Sete Cidades volcano on S. Miguel Island. The festival seeks to use the power of music to convey an ecological message, a zero- to low-emissions event. The event’s remaining carbon emissions will be offset with the support of “A Greener Festival”, a non-profit-making enterprise committed to helping events, festivals, and places worldwide to reduce their environmental impact. The artist explained the idea to us, one he had had for a long time, but which could only be accomplished at the 2022 event.

Name: Nuno Bettencourt

Place of birth:

September 20, 1966

Place of birth: Praia da Vitória – Terceira Island, Azores

Job: Musician

Band: Extreme (2017)

“Culture, music, and the heart and passion of an Azorean are in my DNA”

When and how you had the idea of the project of a music festival with this philosophy?

About 15 years ago, I was on the bridge in Sete Cidades and had a vision of doing an important socially conscious concert... Like the original Woodstock, but in a volcano crater. And WE DID IT. And will do it again.

Was it challenging to convince the bands to travel to a small portion of land in the middle of a vast Ocean?

Not really. The second I showed them photos of the crater site and the Azores, that was enough.

Is this something to repeat in the future on a regular basis? What are your next projects for the Azores?

1. This MUST be a yearly concert as it is too important for future generations. But let's make it bigger and reach more people.

Up to what point did being from the Azores have any influence on your musical career and personal life?

It has a huge influence. Culture, music, and the heart and passion of an Azorean are in my DNA.

“The second I showed them photos of the crater site and the Azores, that was enough [to convince them]”

Paris will always be Paris

Winter in the City of Lights

EVEN IN WINTER, PARIS IS A CITY THAT ATTRACTS VISITORS. A DESTINATION WHERE YOU ARE GUARANTEED CULTURE, BEAUTY, CHARM, AND QUALITY. REDISCOVER PARIS EVERY TIME YOU RETURN.

Rain falls by the banks of the Seine and there is a moment when the camera lens captures that nostalgic, gray moment, but beautiful in the essence that emanates from a poem. The trees are like silver filigree, and the colors of Paris mix with sounds and smells, which lead this city to maintain the ardent flame of the City of Lights. Paris will always be Paris, regardless of what time of year. While works at Notre-Dame Cathedral are still very much ongoing after the fire on April 15, 2019, its reconstruction is not scheduled to end until 2024. That is also the year Paris will host the XXXIII Olympics of the modern era.

The city recovers the rhythm of a bygone age, always open to tourists and prepared to receive with open arms with events and, above all, that which will never be lacking in Paris: sophistication, beauty, and culture. Although, since 2015, it has not been possible for lovers of the Seine to leave their love locked eternally on the Pont des Arts, there are still tourists who insist on maintaining this tradition, structurally damaging many Parisian bridges. A movement called "No Love Locks" was even set up to combat and raise people's awareness of the effects of their actions.

Paris can also be enjoyed with a visit to Christmas theme parks to admire the decorations of the time and sample the diverse gastronomic offers. Carousels continue to turn in Montmartre and, from luxury shopping centers to walks through the different gardens – don't miss the Jardin du Luxembourg, for example —, the city still evokes memories of its past. A time when there was a monarchy, but also a revolution, an Emperor with world ambitions, whose course has also in fact influenced the history of Portugal, not to mention the challenges that the Republic now faces.

Tourists must always remember that this is the city that has given the world big names in the arts and intellectualism. It is a place steeped in wisdom and knowledge where the “lights” of the modern era do not just reflect a time in history when, in 1667, to reduce the night crime rate, the Lieutenant General of the Police, Gilbert Nicolas, ordered that the city be lit up with lanterns and torches. The residents also liked the idea, and Paris became known as the City of Lights. Yet today, lights illuminate a world different from what it used to be: in Paris, there is an ongoing desire to change the world. For that reason, we must lighten up people’s minds. Perhaps visitors will see in Paris’ Christmas lights new hope for brighter days in which there is a continued desire to travel, always leaving a bit of the French capital in our memory banks. Knowing that their days have been well spent.

THE FESTIVE SEASON IN PARIS OFFERS PUBLIC EVENTS FOR ALL TASTES, BUT MERELY BEING IN PARIS IS SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE. HERE ARE A FEW TIPS FOR MAKING THE MOST OF YOUR TIME THERE.

CHRISTMAS ILLUMINATIONS

Paris smells of Christmas, especially if you see it with its illuminations, typical at this time of year. The streets are decorated to captivate travelers' attention, but this doesn't just drain the public highway; there are also shop windows decorated specially for the festive season. Don't forget to walk down the Champs-Élysées and the surrounding area, including Boulevard Haussmann.

VISITING ROOFTOPS

Seeing Paris from above is a privilege that can easily be enjoyed by going onto a rooftop esplanade – the so-called Rooftops. One of the most famous viewpoints is located at the top of Galeries Lafayette, but there are other options to consider, such as “Septième Ciel” at Printemps Haussmann or “of course” the unmissable view from the Sacré Coeur. ur.

PICASSO MUSEUM - “MAYA RUÍZ-PICASSO, DAUGHTER OF PABLO”

Until the end of December, the museum dedicated to the renowned painter Pablo Picasso is holding a unique exhibition of works devoted to his daughter, Maya Ruíz-Picasso. They are works in which the immortal and famous Spanish painter depicts the relationship between him and his first daughter, transporting us into a very intimate, familiar world. This is a unique opportunity to see a new dimension to this big name in art.

SHAKESPEARE AND COMPANY

Visiting a bookshop that specializes in English books in Paris is doing something historical and "mandatory". Established in 1951 by the North American George Whitman, near Paris' kilometer zero – with views to Notre Dame —, this bookshop has become a meeting point for locals and tourists. Who knows? You may find that long-lost work in its collection. And you can even explore booksellers and shops on the Rive Gauche of the Seine.

PORTAS DO ILHEU

Assim chamamos a este espaço, nascido da paixão pela ilha Graciosa e pela vontade de recuperar algum do património degradado, transformando-o e devolvendo-o à utilização, pretendendo dignificar os bons exemplares locais, de arquitetura.

Adaptar o espaço às exigências atuais de conforto, foi desde sempre objetivo assumir um carácter contemporâneo, mantendo ao máximo a identidade das construções existentes, convivendo em franco diálogo. Daqui nasceu a transformação da casa típica da Ilha Graciosa, convertendo-a em duas casas de tipologia T1, independentes e totalmente equipadas, garantido o conforto necessário em estadias mais curtas, ou prolongadas.

Where to eat
Paris

If anything defines Paris' image, it is its cuisine. We now know that you can eat quality. If you do not yet know where, here are a few proposals for travelers to consider.

LE PROCOPE

This is the oldest restaurant in Paris, but it not only survives by virtue of its age: it is also somewhere that serves some great cuisine. Le Procope, established in 1686 in Saint-Germain-des-Prés, has seen French intellectuals pass through, including Rousseau, Diderot, and Verlaine. The decoration reflects the period and the charm of an era of good taste, and still serves traditional French cuisine. Treat yourself to something delicious, which you no doubt deserve.

bacalhau & afins

Já se chamou Porter House, Fusões, Paladarte e até À Linha. Mas há sete anos é: O Bacalhau e Afins, o nome que Roberto Almeida lhe deu quando tomou posse do negócio. Situado num local emblemático de Aveiro, de frente para o Rossio (agora em obras), perto da zona turística da Praça do Peixe.

Um viveiro de chefs, porque quem lá passa, volta ou deixa marca. Atualmente o chef é David Estevão responsável por um menu bastante diverso e apetitoso. Nos pratos principais temos 12 opções: à trilogia de bacalhau abafado ou aos risotos. Se preferir, pode optar por outras opções com destaque para a bochecha ou bisteca de novilho, risoto de gambas e o polvo com risoto nero. Para vegetarianos temos 3 opções na carta. Também é um local onde tratam bem o fiel amigo e outra produção nacional de qualidade, o vinho. Eis o Bacalhau e Afins.

BOUILLON CHARTIER

It was in 1896 that the idea arose of presenting to the public the concept of meals worthy of this name yet at affordable prices. Thus, what we now know as a Parisian "brasserie" was born, said with real enthusiasm and authenticity. Even over 120 years later, it maintains its original promise of quality and cost. Nothing like experiencing one of the three houses between the Gare de l'Est, Grands Boulevards, and Montparnasse.

Extra Tip

The Schist Villages of Portugal

THERE IS TERRITORY WORTH EXPLORING INLAND IN MAINLAND PORTUGAL, A MIXTURE OF NATURE AND CULTURE: A MUST-SEE. THE SCHIST VILLAGES (ALDEIAS DO XISTO) ARE OUR EXTRA TIP AND, ON DISCOVERING THEM, YOU WILL DEFINITELY SEE WHY.

SEE THE INTERIOR FOR YOURSELF

As an extra tip, we resolve to “take” the visitor inland on the Portuguese mainland to discover something which, like the archipelago of the Azores, is somewhere the traveler will like if they want somewhere off the beaten track, away from the hustle and bustle of the city. Here, you will not be disappointed.

We are talking about the Schist Villages (Aldeias do Xisto), a central area of inland Portugal divided into four territorial locations with a total of 27 villages between the Serra do Açor, Serra da Lousã, Zêzere, and Tejo-Ocreza.

Although the area is predominantly shale, hence its name, the diversity of its elements is just as worth seeing. On this trip, even the most demanding visitor will encounter a particular alliance between nature and local culture. They will find quality lodgings, as well as a variety of regional cuisine.

The region has a connection with the forest and water and, as it is also a mountainous area, it is possible to enjoy natural spaces, the opportunity to experience a place that demonstrates real communion with nature. Care has been taken to preserve the heritage, with the rebuilding of houses and the creation of infrastructures and services, enabling tourists to see both nature and culture.

Besides, sport is thought for all: amateurs, professional athletes, and people with special needs can set their sights on mountain biking, trail running, canoeing, and climbing, or just a relaxing walk that will really test their physical and technical limits. There will always be the right track and specialist support services to suit the visitor. So, make the most of this extra tip now!

FURNAS GOLF COURSE - S. MIGUEL ISLAND

You need to go back in time, especially to 1936, to discover the origin of this course, located on São Miguel Island. It is the oldest in the Azores and started with nine holes, designed by Mackenzie Ross, known for the famous Ailsa and Arran Courses restoration in Turnberry, Scotland. In 1992, it was expanded to its current 18 holes through Cameron Powell Associates, maintaining the harmony of its original spirit, and the difference from the beauty of the 1930s is unnoticeable. A place that will inspire some great games.

BATALHA GOLF COURSE - S. MIGUEL ISLAND

Situated ten minutes from Ponta Delgada, Batalha Golf Course was named honoring the battle between the liberals and the absolutists in the 19th century. Opened to the public in 1993, with architecture by Cameron Powell, it stands out for its luxurious Clubhouse. Unique.

TERCEIRA GOLF CLUB - TERCEIRA ISLAND

Founded in 1954, its 18 holes are a challenge that combines with contact with the surrounding nature. The architecture was the work of K.K. Design, which took the opportunity to merge the best swing with the gorgeous countryside. Located a few kilometers from Angra do Heroísmo and Praia Vitória cities, it is a course worth knowing.
